

Eye Twitching Causes & Treatments

Many people experience eye twitching occasionally. It is usually not a cause for concern, but it can be an indication of a greater eye health problem. Eye twitching, medically known as myokymia, occurs when there is an involuntary contraction in the eyelid muscle.

Last updated on August 21, 2020.

Other Resources

Links

Eye Twitching Causes & Treatments

Print

Table of Contents